ARTHUR MIDDLETON

On Results of the Late State Democratic Convention.

MODESTY OF KANAWHA GANG

In Not Claiming the Whole Earth—East Wind Wilson's Characteristics, and His Candidacy for Congress—Watts' Silver Record—A Descendant of Jefferson who Hasn't Read Up on His Ancestor's Record on the Money Question—Salt Sulphur Springs.

Special Correspondence.
SALT SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 18.—The great Democratic hippodrome at Wheeling is over and also the ratification meeting at Charleston, and the Democrats of the mountain counties have just finished exhaling a long breath and are now wondering why Kanawha has never had nor applied for the presidency of these United States. Kanawha politicians have the gall but they lack the brains. They were so short on the latter article that one had even the timidity to aspire for the second place on the Demo-Popercrat ticket. But even the average Kanawhan who thinks nothing too bad for politics and nothing too good for her heels did not take it seriously. Well, the same old incompetent ring is in the ascendancy, and there are more benighted Democrats and simon pure fools in the state than I think if they are not smashed. By the way, they hope to find enough fools in the Republican party to give them a cinch of four more years on the revenues of the state. But will they? I apprehend not.

I wonder how "Col." Bob Carr feels. He ought to know how others have felt when he made the traditional catpaw out of them, now that after the ring used him for all he was worth, but did not consider him worth an office. With all Bob Carr's juggling with county affairs, men and money. With all his gall and incompetency. With his changes from democracy to Greenbackism to Republicanism and back to Demo-Popercratism, he is as true to any given principle as his leaders and drivers.

Wilson will run well in this section. He is built on the anarchist order, and only by reason of birth is he caught also. Think of him with his bristling red hair, his loud voice and cyclonic and radical speeches, and one will easily recognize the fact that had he been born in Europe he would have been a fine brand in the cord world of rank socialism or nihilism. But he will run like a red fox. He has the virtue of consistency. He has the grit and endurance that are always admired. But when it comes to Watts it is different. He obtained the solid vote of Greenbrier and the majority of the votes of Monroe, Summers and Mercer counties by personal pledges, by giving out the information that Bennett was not a candidate. He gained them by misrepresentation. I have this fact from the leading Democrats of Greenbrier, and from leading Democrats everywhere. Bennett's letter in the Greenbrier Independent, one of the leading literary efforts of the state, uncovered this fact. But it was too late. No one admires Watts for this. But there is a graver question which is puzzling the real silver Democrats of the mountains, and it is this—they recognize that Watts was a silver man for office only, and that he cannot be trusted to forward the silver cause if elected. They know that Macaulay and the Chiltons—the state house ring—are the same, and that only office, power and money is what they are seeking. They believe that Chilton told ex-Governor Flower at Chicago that "our people are not much for free silver, but that is our only hope." They believe that interview was straight goods even if denied. They believe that Renshaw told the truth in his letter when he stated that Watts told him that he was a gold Democrat no longer than May, and that the bimetallic League was correct when it stated that Watts declared for gold in the department of justice in Washington no later than June. And everyone knows that Senator Faulkner only jumped the fence at the last hour thinking he would be on the top wave of the silver tide and be swept back into a place that he has not liked acceptably to even the Democratic party. There is not a well informed free silver man in the state but knows these facts are true and really knows that the present leaders cannot be fully trusted on the finance question, or upon any political matter except the ways and means of getting into office and staying there. Such is Kanawha politics. Even the babes catch the epidemic before they do the measles or the chicken pox.

But there is one thing which is true, and time will prove it if it is doubted, that thousands of Democrats in all parts of the state do not know, and that is, if General Watts is elected governor John D. Alderson, ex-pagor, ex-legislative clerk, ex-prosecuting attorney, ex-congressman and for only a short time—a place in his life as an ex-official holder, and a Democratically raised adult, will again be supported by the Democratic party and the tax-payers as secretary of state. Yes, Alderson and the state house ring must be kept upon Democratic pap. No other Democrats must have a draw at the bottle. One of the Chiltons will be chief clerk under Alderson and more relatives will find offices under the state house ring. If offices cannot be found maybe they will make them as they have done in the state treasurer's office, secretary of state's office—in all the departments, and they will be paid out of the contingent fund, at the expense of all tax-payers. These securities—offices with pay, but without labor—have been one of the greatest evils the tax-payers of this state have had to stand. Can they stand it under John D. Alderson?

The Democrats of this section know this and I am surprised to say that one especially knows it and will vote the Democratic ticket in full, while he disapproves of such dishonesty. He is an honest man, and an intelligent man. He will vote for free silver, too. That is yet a greater surprise unless he has failed to read the financial history of this country. He married into a family who are direct descendants of Thomas Jefferson. He claims that Jefferson was a free silver Democrat, and the act of 1873 destroyed the value of silver. How was it then, that Jefferson fixed the ratio of 16 to 1 on the commercial value of gold and silver then in circulation and in 1806 he stopped the coinage of silver dollars and none were coined for thirty years, because the laws of protection, supply and demand were making the ratio unequal. Did Jefferson commit a crime? If it was a "crime" in 1873, it was a "crime" in 1806. The ratio in 1873 was fixed at 16 to 1, with the avowed purpose of making good the standard. What Democratic president and Congress committed that "crime"? In 1853 Congress reduced the silver in fractional coins 5 per cent and made it legal tender for 15. Whose "crime" was this? Thomas Jefferson was a Democrat. But if he was living to-day I would bet a 52 1/2 cent dollar he would not be a Demopopercrat. Let the gentleman of whom I write read up some of his old family history and see how Jefferson stood. And it will be well for Jefferson's stood. And it will be well for Jefferson's stood. And it will be well for Jefferson's stood.

He's one of these animals whose cranium is decorated with a pair of fans instead of auditory appendages.

Monroe county has a Populist ticket in the field. I have been looking for a really Populist for some time. The other week I met a man of herculean build, but gaunt and hollow-eyed, with whiskers that swept the waist-band of his trousers. I was overjoyed and scanned him from tip to toe, took in every detail of the outside man and tried to read the thoughts of the inside man. But, alas, when I inquired who he was I found him an elder of the church and his name was Elijah and he hailed from the classic land of "Kentucky." Jackson county, I had a sneaking idea that if he wasn't a Populist he was one of Brigham Young's angels. But I finally ran against a Populist and I was dumfounded to find him a college man, a pleasant gentleman, a man with smooth manners and a smooth face. His name is Hubert Houston; his residence Alderson; his occupations lawyer and editor; his family an old and an honored one. Verily this is a strange land. By and by, by the way, he has grown old enough to grow Pepper whiskers, I think he will see the error of his way, and not want us to swallow railroads, telegraph lines, free land, wheat securities and other paternal populist policies.

Every one has seen the horrid-looking gold and silver bugs which adorn the coats of so many people. Not long since I saw a young Democrat wearing a gold bug on the lapel of his coat and I said to him: "I thought you were for silver." He said: "I am," and as he said it touched the springs in his bug's tail feathers, when lo, and behold, out sprung its wings, on which were the pictures of Bryan and Sewall. It was a silver bug once, said he, but has turned to "gold." So it had. The thin veneer of silver had stood the test and fear of the world for only a few days before it turned and became a fellow to the gold bug in all appearances. "That's the way it will be with free silver Republicans and many Democrats by November," remarked a sage bystander. "It can't stand the light of investigation and history, nor handling by unprejudiced hands, without showing the cheap jack quick of all pinch-pot political quacks."

In looking over the old hotel registers of the "Salt" I notice in 1844, among many notable names were Colonel Jerome Bonaparte, of Baltimore; Joseph P. Wilson and J. D. Stevenson, Clarksville; A. Paul and lady, F. W. Knox, A. W. Paul, S. Mitchell, P. C. Wood and daughter, of Wheeling. This is one of the best family resorts in the state and a paradise for children. It is well kept, cool and sweet, with good food, pure air and I am astonished that more people from the northern part of the state do not spend the summer here. Once tried, never forgotten. Between 1837 and 1844 the names of Judge George W. Summers, Bushrod Washington, Lewis Cass (the explorer of the Missouri), Generals Scott, St. John Cooke and Eustis; Roger B. Taney, Colonel Hayne, John C. Calhoun, Colonel Benton, Martin Van Buren, John W. Floyd and dozens of men now famous and dead, came, saw and stayed, with horses, buggies, families and servants.

There are two or more questions which I am asked so frequently that I wish the papers would make them so plain that he who runs may read, without stopping his toe and falling. These are the questions: First, are William Jennings Bryan is only a lawyer with a family the size of his income, who is paying for the special train which is carrying him around this country and his expenses at the finest hotels? Some say the silver mine owners who can mine a dollar's worth of silver now fifty cents cheaper than they could ten years ago. As the railroads are not doing so, why does not Willie tell us, to wit: to who? May be it is the a doodle gold bug.

The other is, was the population of Cuba over a billion souls at the beginning of the revolution? stating as an excuse for this seemingly non-pertinent question that the Spanish army, according to all reports, has killed over a million and crippled as many more. They are too much for me. Next. Front! ARTHUR MIDDLETON.

Money and Wages.

New York World: Q. What was our increase in money between 1853 and 1890? A. Only $165,500,000. We held over one-sixth of the world's money in 1853 and only one-eighth in 1890.

Q. What was the per capita? A. $25.49 in 1853 and $25.33 in 1890.

Q. What was the volume of business? A. In 1853 it was $31,721,000,000 in our cities; in 1890 it was $60,259,000,000.

Q. Was there any effect on wages? A. The average earnings of employees in manufacturing establishments in 1853 was $224 each; in 1890 it was $188 each.

Q. How was it in the trades? A. The table published in the last report of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor for this state shows an increase since 1853 of nearly 25 per cent for two hours' less work.
